

October 2013

Economic Recovery Slow for Winnebago County Families

More People in Poverty, Fewer with Health Insurance

One out of Nine Children in Winnebago County Now Lives in Poverty

The child poverty rate in Winnebago County increased to 11.6% in 2012 from 6.0% in 2008. Winnebago County's child poverty rate is lower than the statewide average, which rose to 18.2% in 2012 from 13.4% in 2008. Nearly 2,200 additional children slipped into poverty in Winnebago County between 2008 and 2012, which represents a population nearly the same size as the village of Winneconne.

Child Poverty

Poverty in Winnebago County Has Increased

As a result of the recession, the total poverty rate in Winnebago County increased to 11.2% in 2012 from 7.4% in 2008. In 2012, Winnebago County's poverty rate was below the Wisconsin average, which rose to 13.2% in 2012 from 10.4% in 2008. The statewide poverty level was lower than the national average.

Poverty

Households in Winnebago County are Making Do with Less

The typical household in Winnebago County earned $4,400 less in 2012 than in 2008. Median household income dropped to $51,500 in 2012 from $55,900 in 2008. A typical household in Winnebago County earns roughly 1% more than the state and national average.

Median Household Income

Fewer People in Winnebago County Have Private Health Insurance

The percent of people in Winnebago County with private health insurance decreased to 75.4% in 2012 from 81.8% in 2008. The increase in the unemployment rate impacted health insurance coverage, since most families obtain insurance through their employers.

People with Private Health Insurance

Implementing Health Care Reform Could Significantly Improve Access to Insurance

The percent of Winnebago County residents lacking health insurance increased to 8.6% in 2012, from 7.9% in 2008. Both Winnebago County and Wisconsin had a much smaller share of their population without health insurance than the national average, but far above the 3.9% rate in Massachusetts. That state implemented health care reforms in 2007 that served as the model for the Affordable Care Act.

People with No Health Insurance

How to Help Winnebago County Families Affected by the Recession

Families in Winnebago County are still feeling the effects of the recession, when steep job loss pushed many residents into poverty and resulted in the loss of health care coverage. Winnebago County's economic situation is better in some respects than the national average, but far too many families are struggling to make ends meet or going without health insurance.

It is discouraging that three years into the recovery, poverty rates and income remain stubbornly low, and the uninsured rate remains high. But there are some basic steps we can take to help boost the local economy and help Winnebago County families pull themselves out of poverty, including:

- Increase the minimum wage and then adjust it each year for inflation.
- Give businesses access to a well-trained workforce by providing schools and colleges the resources they need to prepare students for employment. And provide students with the financial aid they need to succeed in their educational efforts.

- Create a strong public/private partnership to help Wisconsinites get insurance through the Affordable Care Act and to help reach the Governor's target of cutting the uninsured rate in half.
- Maintain funding for safety net programs such as food stamps and federal unemployment benefits that help lift families out of poverty and pump money into the still sluggish economy.
- Increase school readiness by improving children's early learning and development opportunities through high-quality child care, early education, home visiting, and parent engagement.